INDEX TO SCOTTISH LITERARY JOURNAL

1979-1983

VOLUMES 6-10 AND SUPPLEMENTS 9-19

Scottish Literary Journal is an annual volume of two issues, composed of articles and poems. It is complemented by two supplements carrying reviews or review articles and retrospective surveys of a year's work in Scottish language, literature and culture. From 1978 an annual 'Language' supplement accompanied the Journal; in 1982 it became a separate publication under the title Scottish Language: an Annual Review. As this no longer formed part of the Scottish Literary Journal, issues 1 and 2 have not been included in this Index.

In the following Index, articles are listed by author, and by subject or title; poems by author; and reviews by reviewer, by author, and by subject or title. The titles of books are in italics. The names of authors of poems, of articles and of reviews, and the names of authors and editors of books reviewed, are in capital letters. The subjects of articles (including names of authors) are in Roman script.
